The Basodan Eco Club, GC Chowari strives to spread alertness among youths and society about the various environmental issues faced by our mother earth globally and to foster an eco-friendly environment in the college campus as well as surroundings where we live.

In the academic year, 2020-2021, the eco-club had organized various events and activities. The brief summary of these activities are as under-

A) Joint activities with NCC, GC Chowari1) Plantation drive

On dated 25/09/2020, plantation drive was successfully completed in the college campus, where 11 (eleven) volunteers have actively participated along with NCC volunteers and planted 20 trees of Devdar (Cedrus deodara), the state tree of Himachal Pradesh. The main focus of the plantation drive is to inculcate the gardening skills and to learn about network of interconnection among different individuals of environment. The chief guest, Sh. Nand Lal, (Principal GC Chowari) appreciate the work of volunteers and throw some lights on the importance of trees in this biosphere. He further, guided the volunteers to plant more and more trees and advised them to reduce the carbon footprint at their individual level.

2) Cancer awareness program

A seminar was organized in order to celebrate Cancer Awareness Day, on dated 07/11/2020, in the college campus. The resource person, Dr. Davender Pal (Medical Officer, ENT specialist, Civil Hospital Chowari) gave valuable information with key highlights.

- ✓ Cancer is preventable.
- ✓ Cancer is Curable.
- ✓ Cancer is not contagious.
- ✓ Life after Cancer.
- ✓ Not scare, but fight cancer.

All the volunteers have actively listen the seminar and ask their queries. The resource person have cleared various myths related to Cancer and requested the volunteers to spread awareness about this disease in the society. Being the important part of society, it's our duty to spread accurate information and help others. The program was healthy and interactive which came to end with vote of thanks by Principal, GC Chowari.
